Dear Mayor Nickels,

I would like to congratulate the City of Seattle and the Seahawk organization for making the NFL Playoffs. As the mayors of the two cities playing in the game, I would like to offer a friendly wager to you.

I will ship a pound of cheese for every point between the Packers final score and the Seahawks final score if the Seahawks are victorious (of course this won't happen!). As for your part of the wager, I would recommends that you provide a pound of seafood (preferably salmon) for every point the Packers have over the Seahawks in a Packer victory. Additionally, the losing mayor will enclose a city logo shirt for the victorious mayor.

I hope that you will accept my challenge. I look forward to your response. You can reach me at 920 448-3005.

Sincerely,

Jim Schmitt
Mayor
